This three-bay frame cabin stands a true $1\frac{1}{2}$ stories in height. Entrances appear in the north end and in the center of the east facade. A central brick chimney heats the building.

Roughly-built shed additions adjoin the south end of the facade and rear. A variety of materials cover the -eteriorating house. Asphalt sheets supplement the sheet-metal roof and weatherboarded walls.

A log outbuilding stands north of the house. The v-notched logs are widely spaced and not chinked. The building retains some vertical board siding. Its gable roof is covered with standing-seam metal. The structure rests on concrete blocks, possibly not the original foundation.
